Subject: Updated Windows 95 Builds? -Reply -Reply -Reply

We got it a couple of days ago. Once a week is plenty good enough for us. We really don't want it more often than that.

It does look like MS is doing wide distribution of these weekly builds (445, 450) as they have been mass manufactured silk-screened CDs. We have been getting both the OS and DDK with each shipment.

I need to emphasize to you guys that from our perspective, Microsoft has been VERY responsive and supportive since January, 1995. All have been shipped to me Fed-X over night from either Jody Geramie or Yves Michali.

Thanks,
Richard Jones

FYI

EMAIL I got from Microsoft. I did not see you guys on the CC line.

You will receive build 450 within 2 days as well.
Thanks,
Yves

I understand that Build 450 was made available today (4-21-95) to all BETA testers on the FTP and Compuserve Download areas. Is it possible to have this update sent to Novell since we do not have an account on these download services?

Thanks In Advance
