

Novell

ATTORNEY/CLIENT PRIVILEGE

Memorandum

To: DOS Antitrust File

From: David R. Bradford

cc:

Date: April 1, 1996

Subject: Claim for Tortuous Interference with Perspective Economic Advantage

Unless otherwise indicated or obvious from the nature of this memo, the information contained in this memo is privileged, confidential, and intended only for the identified recipient(s). Any dissemination, distribution, duplication or use of this memo is strictly forbidden except in accordance with the instructions of the sender. If you receive this memo in error, please immediately notify the author by telephone. The author will pay for any expenses you incur in calling, destroying or returning the memo.

Whenever Novell files suits, or whoever files suit to obtain release for the damages incurred as a result of Microsoft anticompetitive conduct in the DOS marketplace, there should be a claim for Tortuous Interference with Perspective Economic Advantage. This claim should be based on Microsoft's activity to input language into Windows which would make nonoperable with DR DOS. That is a tort claim for which punitive damages can be claimed, and should be claimed.

From the desk of . . .

David R. Bradford

Sr. Vice President

& General Counsel

Novell, Inc.

1555 N. Technology Way

A-333

Orem, UT 84057

Tel.

801-222-4441

Fax

801-222-4478

NOV-B07563362
CONFIDENTIAL